WILSON'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

OUTLINES VIEWS AT JOINT SESSION IN ANNUAL MESSAGE.

WANTS SPEEDY LAWS GOVERNING R. R. CRISIS

Urges Measures to Encourage Export Trade, and Asks for a Corrupt Practices Act.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Dec. 5.—President Wilson wants his original railway legislation program completed. He also wants a Corrupt Practices act passed by congress before March 4.

The President made this plain today when he outlined his views to a joint session of congress. He did not touch upon preparedness other than to ask that congress be guided by the reports and recommendations of the secretaries of war and the navy, following out the policies laid down at the last session.

Touching the railroad situation President Wilson asked speedy action on all but one of the recommendations made to congress in August last, and which have not yet been enacted into law.

In addition to railroad legislation, President Wilson appealed for action by the senate on the following general legislation, which received the approval of the House at the last session.

1. The Webb bill, removing from the restrictions of the Sherman Anti Trust law combinations of merchants or interests engaged solely in export trade.

2. The Corrupt Practices act.

3. The Porto Rican Citizenship bill, organizing the island possession on the basis of a territory, and extending suffrage to the inhabitants.

Discussing his recommendation for a law similar to the Canadian Industrial Disputes act, the President declared he would hesitate to recommend that any man in any occupation be obliged by law to continue in an employment which he desired to leave. That, he said, would be "to adopt a new principle in our jurisprudence which, I take it for granted, we are not prepared to introduce."

Immediate passage of the Corrupt Practice act "would greatly relieve the public mind," the President asserted. He warned against delay in consideration of the bill, which is designed to regulate the expenditures of money in elections, urging that it be dealt with now, "while the circumstances and the dangers to the public morals of the present method of obtaining and spending campaign funds stand clear under recent observation, and the methods of expenditure can be frankly studied in the light of present experience."

"No lengthy argument is required," Mr. Wilson declared, in support of the recommendation that Americans engaged in the export trade be given a freer hand.

"That enterprise," he said, "will presently, will immediately assume, has, indeed, already assumed a magnitude unprecedented in our experience. We should clear away all legal obstacles and create a basis of undoubtful law for it which will give freedom without permitting unregulated license.

"This thing must be done now," he declared with emphasis, "because the opportunity is here and may escape us if we hesitate or delay."

Mr. Wilson indicated clearly that unless some unusual internal or international crisis should require it, he would not again address congress at the present session.

"I hope that you will permit me to say with what genuine pleasure and satisfaction I have co-operated with you in the many measures of constructive policy with which you have enriched the legislative annals of the country," the President said in conclusion. "It has been a privilege to labor in such company. I take the liberty of congratulating you upon the completion of a record of rare serviceableness and distinction."

CATTLE MARKET RESTORED

With Lifting of Restrictions on Cattle Shipments, Ordinary Business Conditions Are Resumed.

With the lifting of the restrictions on shipments of cattle from the stock yards yesterday, ordinary business conditions were restored. News that the embargo had been lifted, however, reached the country too late last week to affect the receipts very much yesterday, and only a fair supply of stockers and feeders arrived here. The cattle men bought up all offerings readily and prices were about the same as on the days previous to the placing of the restrictions.

JOHN D. ARCHBOLD DIES

Multimillionaire Associate of Rockefeller Passes Away at Home in New York.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Dec. 5.—John D. Archbold, multimillionaire associate of John D. Rockefeller, and president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, died here at 4 o'clock this morning. He was 70 years old.

Mr. Archbold was born in Leesburg, O. When oil was discovered in Pennsylvania he was 16 years old. He joined the first rush of adventurers to the oil fields and secured a position as office boy with a small oil firm in Titusville. His faculty for quickly grasping the financial details of the business gained him rapid promotion. At that time John D. Rockefeller was already a notable leader in the petroleum industry, and Mr. Rockefeller was so impressed with the young man's enthusiasm that he promptly made him an offer of employment, which Archbold accepted. In 1875 he was made a director in the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, and later became its vice president and in 1911 was elected to the presidency. He was prominent in various government investigations of the oil industry.

WORK AT NORMAL

PROF. H. A. MILLER OUTLINES COURSE IN PUBLIC SPEAKING.

AN AID TO TEACHERS

Aims to Cultivate Literary Appreciation, Interpret Language and Train Organs of Speech.

Prof. Harry A. Miller, teacher of public speaking and reading at the Northwest Normal school, has written an interesting account of the work in his department, which is designed to train the teacher in the handling of the social as well as the business side of school life.

Attention has often been called to the increase in attendance at the Normal, but we rarely hear of the work which is being done in the class room and in the community. The department of reading and public speaking offers two courses of secondary rank especially designed to aid teachers in this subject, who work in the rural schools. One term is required of those seeking a rural certificate.

Three terms of advanced reading of college rank are offered. These comprise oral reading of the short story and the novel, poetry and drama. Besides these a course for advanced students is offered in oral problems for teachers of English.

The aims in the reading courses are to cultivate literary appreciation, interpret language, train the organs of speech utterance, build better voice, and offer training enough in self-culture to enable one to read before others with ease and skill. The larger aims are kept constantly in mind, namely, the training of teachers for more efficient work in English so that they may impress a community where they teach, through the various functions of the school, such as the club, the literary society and the various programs that may be offered in the schools.

There are five courses offered in public speaking, all of which are of college rank. The aims in these courses are to train men and women for effective, practical speaking; to train in clear, sensible thinking, and rational, pleasing expression. Emphasis is laid on daily practice before the class, and the students meet practical problems similar to those in the world about them.

Opportunity is offered through the literary societies and the plays given to train in practical service. Occasionally members of the classes are sent to the rural districts to aid in programs at schools or in churches.

It is the thought that this department will be able in the future to serve as large a consistency within the Normal district as is possible to serve legitimately; to stimulate teachers to organize social, literary and commercial bodies to further community interests. In this way it can render a larger service in the field of oral English which will make for culture. Through inter-society contests in the school and possible contests with other schools, it is hoped that in the future there will be earned a larger place for the department. It has had many more calls during the past year than at any previous period of its history from teachers' institutes, churches, societies and schools.

DR. BURRIS TO CHILLICOTHE

Will Address Chamber of Commerce on Plans for Rebuilding Missouri-Wesleyan College.

Dr. W. F. Burris went to Chillicothe today, where he is scheduled to address the Chillicothe chamber of commerce regarding the plans for the rebuilding of the Missouri-Wesleyan college, recently destroyed by fire.

Chillicothe people are anxious to have the college rebuilt in their town and are considering the raising of a bonus to secure this privilege. They wrote a letter requesting Dr. Burris to address them at this meeting regarding the necessary amount required to rebuild the school. They will then determine what action is to be taken.

The insurance companies made a complete settlement with the Missouri-Wesleyan college, paying $40,000, the amount of the policies held on the building. This amount will not nearly cover the deficit, and the board is planning ways to raise the required amount of money in order to start the erection of a new college.

SALES INCREASING

39 REBATE CARDS WERE ISSUED YESTERDAY.

TOTAL SALES $1688.96

Third Day of Trade Week Bids Fair to Surpass Other Days—Merchants Plan to Stimulate Trade.

Number of trade week cards issued yesterday, 39.

Amount of sales represented by cards, $536.

Number of cards to date, 124.

Amount of sales to date, $1,688.96.

"There are more people on the streets today than there are on some Saturdays," said a man today in commenting on the impetus to business given by the trade week program.

And thus the third day of trade week is ushered in with splendid weather, good roads, a fare refund, and everything worth while, and a record number of sales.

The following towns were represented yesterday: Elmo, Pickering, Skidmore, Orrsburg, Hopkins, Conception, Parnell, Clearmont, Ravenwood, Guilford, Burlington Junction, Barnard, Clyde and Quitman. The highest sale made to any of the customers from these places were $34.36.

The merchants behind the trade festival met at the Commercial club rooms yesterday evening to discuss plans for the stimulation of interest in trade week. They expressed themselves well pleased with the outlook for a good holiday trade that would relieve the rush and crowding of the days before Christmas.

If you have not invited the friend you are so anxious to have visit you, it is not too late to do so yet. You will never have a better argument by which to persuade him or her to visit you than the one offered by trade week. If there is anything you don't understand about the method of obtaining the rebate or the amount of purchases necessary to get the complete fare refund call the Commercial club office and your questions will be courteously answered. The opportunity to save railroad fare is open until midnight Saturday.

DREDGE BOAT OVER

PASSES WABASH BRIDGE, LAST REAL OBSTACLE.

DIFFICULTY EXPERIENCED

Piles Driven in Bottom of Ditch by R. R. Company Makes Work Slow—Passenger Trains Delayed.

The dredge boat which is excavating the new channel of the 102 river from the state line to the Carr bridge, two miles south of the water plant, passed the Wabash bridge yesterday. Approximately eight hours were consumed in accomplishing the work. Train No. 3, which was to arrive in Maryville at 7:28 o'clock yesterday evening, did not get in until 1 o'clock this morning, being held at Bedison until the bridge was made safe for its crossing.

The boat crew experienced much more difficulty than was anticipated in getting the boat past this last obstacle. The railroad company had driven about one dozen piles from twelve to fifteen feet into the bottom of the ditch below the bridge to keep the ditch from washing any deeper, and it was necessary to remove these piles before the boat could make the required excavation in passing.

The railroad crew, headed by Mr. Greenland, chief engineer of the Wabash for this section, removed two sections of the bridge and two tiers of the piling. Then the boat began to pass, excavating a deep channel as it went. When it got beyond the bridge the bridge crew inserted two new tiers of piling, and replaced the sections of the bridge, completing the essential part of their work by 1 o'clock this morning so that the passenger train might go by.

The dredge boat is now within one mile of its destination. In this distance it is necessary to cross the old channel of the river twice, but the work is easy and the members of the board feel that the load is just about lifted from their shoulders.

The work of shortening the channel f the river from one-third to one-quarter the present distance, so that the water will flow more swiftly, and thus make the bottom lands more healthful and also free them from the danger of overflows, is backed by the owners of 9,000 acres of the richest land in Nodaway county. The total cost of the work is $90,000 and thi samount is being paid by the owners of the land, who are taxed $1 an acre a year for a period of twenty years.

The project is under the direction of a board, which was elected when the corporation was first formed. Each year the term of one member of the board expires, an election to fill the vacancy occurring in April. The members of the board at present are: H. H. McClurg, Pickering; William Hinton, Pickering; J. F. Goodspeed, near Maryville; Dr. C. H. Coe and Anderson Craig, Maryville. Mr. Craig is chairman and Mr. McClurg is secretary of the corporation.

TO START CAMPAIGN

COMMERCIAL BOARD COMPLAINS OF P. O. CARRIER SERVICE.

WANT AN EXTRA MAN

Urge Co-Operation of Residents to Procure Inspection of System and to Increase Efficiency.

The board of directors of the Maryville Commercial club, at the regular meeting yesterday afternoon went on record with a complaint against the present condition of letter service in Maryville. E. M. Claypool, secretary of the Maryville Commercial club, was ordered to file a complaint to Postmaster Todd, and to begin a campaign at once to obtain satisfactory carrier service in the city.

There are residences within four blocks of the square who do not have delivery service, and in many places where a twice-a-day service should be installed the residents only have a once-a-day delivery.

The campaign will be waged with two ends in view. First, the official inspection of the delivery system, and, second, the addition of one or more carriers to handle the city mail. At present there are three carriers delivering the mail to the city residents.

The present routing was made in 1900, sixteen years ago, and since that time numerous additions and changes have been made in Maryville, thereby destroying to a great extent the efficiency of the service.

The proposed plan to bring the inefficiency of the service to the notice of the "powers that be" in Washington is to insure concerted action on the part of the residents of the city. Secretary Claypool asks that all complaints against the service be sent to his office, and that letters be written to the first assistant postmaster general, who has charge of the carrier service, and also to Congressman Booher and to Senator James A. Reed. The campaign will be waged until the required degree of efficiency is reached.

Perhaps it is an electrically played piano or phonograph, or an artistic lamp or one of those indispensable flash-lights, an electric Flatiron or a Vacuum Cleaner.

Whatever it is, get it electrically if you can and increase the usefulness and appropriateness of your gift.

The new electric current rates give you still greater use of electrical utensils. These new rates place these great conveniences still more at your service. SOLDIERS GOT RELIEF FROM SORENESS

Boys On the Border Relieved Their Pains and Aches With Sloan's Liniment.

Once upon a time Norman Jones, serving in the National Guard at El Paso, returned to camp after a strenuous 15-mile hike foot sore and leg weary. He had not been long in active service and his shoulders, back and limbs felt the after-effects of marching.

Remembering Sloan's Liniment, Jones applied it to the sore spots and went to bed. He writes: "I arose the next morning feeling fine; in fact, I had entirely forgotten about the hike and went out for a four-hour drill in the sun as spry as ever."

Private Jones passed the experience along, and many a boy on the border relieved the agony of sprains, strains, bruises, insect bites, cramped muscles, rheumatic twinges, etc., by the use of Sloan's Liniment.

Easily applied without rubbing. At all druggists, 25c, 50c and $1.00.
